For Immediate Release, East Greenbush, NY, March 22, 2017

Kelly M. Larocco, 48 of East Greenbush was charged with Larceny by Officer Mark Herrington, after leaving Walmart without paying for all of the groceries that she had carried out.

In other cases;

Christopher R. Gordon, 27 of Troy was arrested at Walmart, after he pocketed a carry-case for an "iPhone 6S" worth about fifty dollars. He was charged with Larceny by Officer Griffin Hotaling.

Estephany D. Burgos, 26 of Far Rockaway, was charged with Criminal Impersonation by Sgt. Ernest Tubbs. Burgos had attempted to impersonate someone else during a traffic stop, in order to avoid a ticket for driving while her license was suspended.

Police responded to a disturbance call about 3:15 a.m. after Phillips Road neighbors called to report that two youths were walking up the street banging on stop signs and yelling at each other. While being questioned, Devon M. Emma, 20 of East Greenbush was found in possession of beer, brass-type metal knuckles and marijuana. He was charged by Officer Edward Ashley with Possession of a Weapon (4th Dgr.) in addition to the other contraband.

All cases will be heard in Town Court. Refer to source above for additional information.
